

Contenidos

UNIT 1. Motivation in the English classroom

What is motivation?

Motivation in the L2 classroom

Motivating students: motivational strategies

Basic motivational conditions

Generating initial motivation

Maintaining and protecting motivation

UNIT 2. Interaction in the English classroom

What is interaction? Why is it so important in language learning?

Interactive activities for small and large groups

Teaching grammar using interactive oral activities

Different materials to promote interactive language learning

Using drama in the English classroom

UNIT 3. Oral skills: listening and speaking in the FL classroom

Analysis of different formats for listening lessons

The comprehension approach (CA). Reading versus listening

Different types of listening and appropriate responses

Interaction: integrating speaking and listening

Decoding messages

Decoding and meaning building. The Interactive Compensatory Hypothesis

UNIT 4. Written skills: reading and writing

Reading and reading skills

Designing / using reading comprehension exercises

Reading approaches. Different ways of using texts in the FL classroom

Authentic materials: advantages and disadvantages

Classroom procedure

Creative writing. Textual intervention

UNIT 5. The role of culture in EFL (English as a foreign language)

English as an international language. Some introductory thoughts on culture

The concepts of multicultural, pluricultural, sociocultural and intercultural

Prejudices and stereotypes in the foreign language classroom

Developmental Model of Intercultural Sensitivity

UNIT 6. Assessing language learning

Key issues in language assessment

What is a good test?

How to assess oral skills

How to assess written works

How to assess receptive skills